

WHAT IS HOME HEALTH CARE?

Home health involves a range of healthcare services that can be provided wherever home may be.

Also known as 'skilled care,' home healthcare is designed to help you gain independence and remain safe at home as an active community member.

People turn to homecare for help with:

- Transitioning from a hospital or nursing facility, to remain stable and stay at home
- Managing chronic conditions like diabetes, CHF, or COPD
- Rehab after joint replacement or other surgery
- Adapting to new mobility challenges, and home safety and falling hazards
- Caregiver support and strategies for living with cognitive decline

IS HOME HEALTH CARE RIGHT FOR ME?

If any of these sounds familiar, you might benefit from home healthcare:

- New diagnosis, or recent difficulty with a chronic illness
- Trouble completing routine tasks for disease management
- New medications, or juggling 3 or more medications
- Recent fall, a close call, or fear of falling
- Feeling weaker than before, or less able to do daily tasks
- Pain that interferes with daily activities
- Difficult or not possible to leave the house
